

Boynedale Bush Camp reopens just in time for Christmas

Gladstone Area Water Board (GAWB) is pleased to advise Boynedale Bush Camp will reopen from 6am on Saturday 19 December 2020.

GAWB Chief Executive Officer Darren Barlow has thanked the public for their patience during this necessary closure.

“Boynedale Bush Camp is a much loved area for locals and travellers alike and we look forward to welcoming visitors back again,” Mr Barlow said.

“Like every other campground in Australia, we have had to make some changes in order to safely reopen. These are minor changes that will ensure everyone has a healthy and enjoyable experience.

“We simply ask all visitors to practice physical and social distancing between individual camp sites, good personal hygiene including use of hand sanitizer, hand washing and covering your mouth if sneezing or coughing.”

QR Codes will be located on signage at the lookout and main camping areas for contact tracing purposes. Visitors will be required to check in and check out.

GAWB will also resume daily cleaning of all shared amenities and facilities at the Bush Camp. Signage has been installed to remind visitors of social distancing and personal hygiene requirements while at the site.

GAWB asks visitors not to attend the bush camp if you have returned from a COVID-19 hotspot in the past 14 days, have cold or flu-like symptoms, or have been in contact with a confirmed case of COVID-19 in the past 14 days.

Ends.
